Introduction to the EEOC Public Portal

The EEOC Public Portal is a secure, web-based application developed for individuals to interact with the EEOC regarding a complaint of employment discrimination. Using the EEOC Public Portal, you may file a complaint against an employer in the Private Sector (i.e. Business or non-profit) or a State or Local Government Agency. If you work or worked for the U.S. Federal Government as an employee or a contractor, or applied to work for the Federal Government, you may request a hearing with or appeal a decision to the EEOC regarding your formal EEO complaint. The EEOC Public Portal is the primary point of communication between you and the EEOC.

Chapter 1  Request a Hearing with EEOC

When you file a formal EEO Complaint with a Federal Government agency, that agency is expected to complete its investigation within 180 days from the day the complaint was filed; or, if the complaint was amended, 180 days from the day it was amended. The agency is then expected to issue you its Report of Investigation and/or a Notice of Right to Request a Hearing. If you have received the Report or the Notice, or if more than 180 days have passed since you filed or amended your complaint, you may request a hearing with an EEOC’s Hearing Unit Office. If you are an attorney/representative for a complainant, you cannot request a hearing on behalf of your client; only your client may request a hearing.

To request a hearing on your complaint through the EEOC Public Portal, perform the following steps:

Step 1.  On the home page, click Filing with EEOC.

Step 2.  When asked to identify the Type of Employer you believe discriminated against you, select ‘Federal Government agency…’ and click on the Next button.

Step 3.  An informational page displays with links to help you learn more about EEOC and the hearing and appeal processes. When you are ready to continue, click on the Next button.

Step 4.  The What would you like to do? page displays. Select Request a Hearing about my formal EEO complaint and click on the Next button.
Step 5. You will now be asked some questions to determine if the EEOC can help you. Select the appropriate response or fill in the requested information for each question. When you have completed the questions, click on the Next button.

➢ Tip! You may be asked more or fewer questions depending on your answers. The illustration below shows one possible outcome.

Step 6. To submit a Hearing request, you must have a user account. If you have not used the EEOC Public Portal before, click on the Sign-Up Now button to create your user account (see EEOC Public Portal User’s Guide Vol 1 – Getting Started for details).

➢ Tip! If you already registered with the EEOC, click on the Returning Users button and login.
Step 7. Your personal information is displayed, which will be submitted with the online inquiry. This screen is view-only. Click on the Continue button to proceed.

➢ Tip! If you need to modify this information, click on the link at the top of the page to go to your User Account Information. When you have finished and submitted your changes, you will be returned to inquiry submission process.

Step 8. Next, you will be asked if you want to enter information about your legal representative (this is optional, but if you are being represented by an attorney or another individual in the EEO process, you should identify your representative here). Select Yes or No and click on the Next button to continue.
➢ Tip! If you choose not to enter a legal representative now, you will be able to enter one later, on the My Case Page.

Step 9. If you selected Yes, a form will display for you to fill in the representative information. When you are finished, click on the Next button to continue.
➢ Tip! EEOC verifies that the representative represents you. EEOC expects a reply from the representative within 10 days of sending a verification email; if they haven’t received a reply after 10 days, then you will receive an email notifying you that EEOC has been unable to verify the representative.

Step 10. A page displays showing the representative(s) you have entered. Click on the Add Another Representative button to add another representative. Click on the View/Update Delete button to make changes. When you are finished, click on the Next button to continue.

Step 11. Next you must upload your Notice of Right to Request Hearing document, which you should have received from the agency named in your complaint. Click on the Upload button.

When the pop-up window displays, select the document and ‘Request for Hearing’ as the document type, and click on the Upload button on the window. The Hearing Document page will then display the file that you uploaded. You must upload the hearing request document before you can submit the hearing request.
Step 12. After uploading the document, the screen will appear as shown below. If you made a mistake and uploaded the wrong document, you can replace it with the correct document by clicking on the Replace Document button. Otherwise click on the Next button to continue.

!Image of the screen with the Replace Document button highlighted

Step 13. Finally, you will be asked to enter information to identify your complaint. You must enter the Agency number, Agency name, and the EEOC office. When you are finished, click on the Submit Request button.

➢ Tip! Click on the magnifying glass to display a list of agencies to choose from. You may remove a selection by clicking on the ‘x’ next to the agency name.

!Image of the screen with the Agency number and Agency name fields highlighted

Step 14. When the request is successfully submitted, you and the Agency will receive an email titled a “Notice of Receipt of Hearing Request”. The Notice may also be downloaded from the My Cases page for the hearing request.
In the Portal, you will also see confirmation of your hearing request with your hearing number as shown below. (Note: the hearing number displayed is for a fictional hearing.)

Be sure to write down the hearing number so that you can reference it when communicating with the EEOC.

4.2 ADR Outcomes

4.2.1 ADR Scheduled
After you accept the invitation to ADR, if the agency has also agreed to participate in ADR and the EEOC decides to move the case forward to ADR scheduling, this message is displayed on the screen:

Both parties have agreed to participate in ADR. EEOC will contact you when the ADR session is scheduled and will provide you with more information. No further action is required from you at this time.

When the ADR session has been scheduled, this message will be displayed on the screen:

An ADR session has been scheduled. Please be sure to make yourself available for this meeting.

4.2.2 ADR Held
When ADR has been held, this message will be displayed on the screen:

Both parties participated in ADR.

If ADR was successful, this message will be displayed on the screen:

The ADR session resulted in a resolution of the complaint. After the executed settlement is uploaded, this matter will be closed.

If a Closure Document is issued, this message will be displayed on the screen:

A Closure Document was issued in the case. To view the document, please access the document section of the Portal.

When the complaint is closed, the following messages will display on the screen:

The case is now closed. Please review the Closure Document for Appeal Rights, if applicable.

If ADR was unsuccessful, this message will be displayed on the screen:

The ADR session did not result in a resolution of the complaint. The parties will receive further instruction on the processing of the complaint from EEOC.

Additional status messages will be displayed as the complaint is processed (see Chapter 5).

4.2.3 Not Eligible for ADR
If the EEOC reviews the ROI and determines your case is not eligible for ADR, or you and the Agency declines the ADR invitation, your case will be Pending AJ assignment and this message will be displayed on the screen:

Upon further review this complaint is not considered for ADR and will be assigned to an Administrative Judge to continue processing. However, ADR may be considered after assignment to an Administrative Judge. Your patience is appreciated.

Additional status messages will be displayed as the complaint is processed (see Chapter 5).
Chapter 5  Hearing Conducted by the EEOC

If your complaint was not eligible for ADR (either because one or both parties declined, or the EEOC determined it is ineligible), or the ADR session did not result in a resolution, the EEOC will proceed with conducting a hearing. The case is assigned to an EEOC Administrative Judge (AJ) who will conduct the hearing, make a decision, and order relief if discrimination is found.

Once the AJ has made a decision, the agency will issue a final order notifying you if they agree with the AJ’s decision and if they will grant any relief ordered. You have a right to appeal the AJ’s decision and may file an appeal via the EEOC Public Portal. For details on how to file an appeal see EEOC Public Portal User’s Guide Vol 7 – Appeals to the EEOC.

You may track the progress of your hearing via the EEOC Public Portal. Click on My Cases on the EEOC Public Portal Home Page, and then the EEOC Number in the case list. On the My Case page, you will see the current status of your hearing request and a detailed description. The status will be one of the following:

- Pending AJ Assignment
- Assigned to AJ
- Hearing Scheduled
- Hearing Held
- Closure Document Issued
- Closed

You may submit documents, and view documents issued by the agency and/or the EEOC, throughout the remainder of the hearing process via the EEOC Public Portal, on the My Case page for your hearing request (in the My Documents section).

For details on viewing case information and uploading/downloading documents see EEOC Public Portal User’s Guide Vol 8 – Managing Case Information.

Invitation to ADR

The EEOC ADR Program:
Your Partner in Workplace Solutions!

We invite you to participate in the EEOC’s Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) Program to efficiently resolve EEOC Complaint {EEOC Number}. ADR is a no-cost, voluntary, and confidential opportunity for both parties to work with a neutral ADR facilitator to discuss and try to resolve your EEOC Complaint. ADR includes a variety of methods such as settlement conferences conducted by Administrative Judges and mediations with EEOC staff members or outside neutrals.

Here are five reasons you should participate:

It’s the FASTEST way to resolve a complaint – We try to resolve complaint within 90 days.

It’s fair and confidential – The ADR facilitator is a neutral facilitator who helps the parties find a solution to the problem. All discussions with the ADR facilitator are strictly confidential and are NOT part of the EEOC’s adjudication of a case.

It provides a FINAL resolution to a complaint – ADR allows Complainants to address all of their filed claims.

You CONTROL the outcome – The ADR facilitator will work with you to identify the best options that exist to resolve the complaint at this early stage. The parties will determine what options are workable and the Agency is free to accept or reject any options. It’s FREE and EFFECTIVE – There is no cost to participate in ADR. EEOC resolves more than 50% of the complaints in the ADR program. If ADR doesn’t resolve the complaint, then an EEOC Administrative Judge will be assigned and will proceed with the case.

We look forward to working with you in bringing this matter to an amicable resolution and demonstrating why so many Complainants consider the EEOC ADR Program their partner in workplace solutions.

Please select a response to the ADR Offer on this page by <30 days from receipt of the ADR invitation>.

This is an agreement by the above parties to participate in mediation in the above referenced complaint. The parties understand that mediation is a voluntary process, which may be terminated at any time. The parties acknowledge that the mediator(s) possesses the discretion to terminate the mediation at any time if an impasse occurs or either party or the mediator deems the case inappropriate for mediation.

The parties acknowledge that if a settlement is reached as a result of the mediation, the assigned mediator(s) is required to report to EEOC any benefits received.
